

Suppose at the Supermarket

Written by Susan Wigden

Illustrated by Corey Colombin

Tex Ware
Everett, WA

© 2009 Susan Wigden, Corey Colombin

All Rights Reserved

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any way by any means—electronic, mechanical, photocopy, recording or otherwise—without the prior permission of the copyright holder, except as provided by USA copyright law.

ISBN 978-1-935500-05-6

Library of Congress Control Number: 2009935804

Dedication by Susan Wigden:

This picture book is dedicated to my son Lee, who as an adult, still has my “out of the box” way of thinking.

And to my husband Bruce, who always manages to put up with the two of us!

Special thanks to the extremely talented and creative artist, Corey Colombin, who managed to bring life to the supermarket.

Dedication by Corey Colombin

For children, and adults, everywhere, who see the world through their beautifully painted imaginations.

Suppose the olives jumped out of the can,
and they started their
own rock band.

Suppose the apple

wore a wig,

and did the hula

with a fig.

Special

Bakery Donuts
50 cents

Sale Price
15.99

Hawaiian Theme Cake
white with coconut cream filling